Would you benefit from walking 30 to 90 minutes a day within an organised walking group?

Only a third of adults in the UK are active enough and walking is a great way to improve fitness and walking with a group can also be great fun.

The National Walking for Health Scheme walks are led by friendly, trained, volunteer Health Walk Leaders and the scheme is run by the Ramblers and McMillan on behalf of the NHS. The weekly walks range from 30 minutes to approximately 90 minutes in duration.
